

Bulldogs empty-handed against KAC

In the Erste Bank Eishockey Liga the Dornbirner Eishockey Club got defeated 3:6 by the EC-KAC.

The home team was off to a good start in the Messestadion Wednesday night, when at first they were clearly dominating the visiting team from Carinthia, and taking the lead early: Kevin Schmidt (4.) overcame former Bulldog and current KAC-goalie David Madlener with a shot from the right side.

Guests with double strike twice

With the time progressing the KAC got into the game better and better, and it took them only 24 seconds to turn the score from 1:0 to 1:2. First Kevin Kapstad (15.) took care of the tie with a well-aimed shot, then Martin Schumnig (15.) made for the Red Jackets' lead. The Bulldogs reacted with a more aggressive play, and Kevin Macierzynski (17.) got successful with a nice backhand-rebound in the top corner. The KAC-goalie hadn't been able to stop a slap shot by Cody Sylvester, the puck had bounced off of him. The score was 2:2 after the first period. The game got highly competitive after the intermission. Oliver Achermann took a chance, went by on the side, almost right in front of Klagenfurt's goal, where he left the puck for Niki Petrik (27.). Petrik lifted it in topshelf. But it didn't take long for the guests to tie once again. Using a quick offense Kevin Kapstad perfectly passed to Johannes Bischofberger (31.), who shoved the puck past Florian Hardy in the goal. Mark Hurtubise (36.) and Thomas Koch (37.) took care of the visiting team's two-goal-lead. Eventually when Mark Popovic (45.) scored the sixth goal for Klagenfurt, from the side into the top corner, Florian Hardy got replaced by Thomas Stroj. But that didn't change anything about the outcome of the game anymore, the Carinthians took home the victory.
